Bisila Bokoko

Founder of Narrative Intelligence™ · Global Speaker
UN Citizen of the World · Author and Consultant

Entrepreneur · Bilingual Speaker · Mentor · Writer

A global voice. A method of her own.

Short bio. Bisila Bokoko is an entrepreneur, bilingual speaker, consultant, mentor and writer. Founder of Narrative Intelligence™, Chief Executive of BBES International and founder of the Bisila Bokoko African Literacy Project (BBALP). Recognised by the United Nations as a Citizen of the World.

Medium bio. Regarded as one of the most influential women in international business, Bisila has delivered more than 500 in-person and online keynotes. She was Executive Director of the Spain-US Chamber of Commerce in New York for almost seven years. Today she helps leaders and organisations to choose, with intention, the narrative they want to live and lead.

Long bio. Bisila Bokoko is an international leader, global ambassador and founder of BBES International. Her work brings together cultural intelligence, transformational leadership and business development: she designs strategic alliances, works alongside chief executives and their teams, and creates programmes, workshops and mentoring for companies, universities and organisations around the world. She is the author of Todos tenemos una historia que contar and El miedo y yo, and host of the Your Best Self podcast.

She works with the United Nations on the EMPRETEC programme, supporting entrepreneurs around the world. She created Bisila Wines and has served as ambassador for international brands.

Narrative Intelligence™

We do not only live stories: we live from a narrative. Narrative Intelligence™ is Bisila Bokoko's method for detecting that narrative, questioning it and choosing, on purpose, the narrative from which to lead.

1

Notice

Recognise the inherited narrative that guides your decisions, your leadership and your culture today.

2

Question

Ask whether that narrative is still true, and whom it serves.

3

Choose

Choose, with intention, the narrative you want to live and lead.

4

Live

Carry that choice into your decisions, your team and your presence, every day.

“What you believe, you create.”

Themes that transform audiences

21st-Century Leadership

Inclusive, transformational leadership, and the capabilities companies demand today.

Narrative Intelligence and Cultural Intelligence

Narrative Intelligence™ and cultural intelligence applied to business and trade diplomacy.

Diversity, Inclusion and Women in Business

The wealth of diversity in business, women's leadership, human rights and sustainability.

Business Development and Global Alliances

Global alliances, international marketing and international markets, and the art of winning over collaborators and clients.

Inspiration and Purpose

What you believe, you create. We all have a story to tell. The business of doing good: leading with purpose and impact. Philanthropy.

What your audience takes away

- Clarity: a chosen narrative, not an inherited one, from which to lead.
- Action: concrete steps to apply the method from the very next day.
- Energy: fear turned into a teacher, not a brake.

Books that become action

Todos tenemos una historia que contar (2023)

Her first book: personal experiences and reflections on leadership, personal reinvention, women's empowerment, cultural identity and purpose-driven entrepreneurship. A guide to self-knowledge. "With a book, you are never alone."

El miedo y yo

A story of unexpected transformation. Fear, far from paralysing us, can become a powerful ally: an accessible essay and a manifesto of empowerment for moving towards a more authentic, purpose-guided life.

Your Best Self

A podcast in Spanish and English on inspiration, motivation and empowerment: transforming the impossible, finding direction and overcoming fears.

BBALP

The Bisila Bokoko African Literacy Project promotes literacy through libraries, under the motto: "With a book, you are never alone." Education has been the key to her life.

"Use your smile to change the world. Do not let the world change your smile."
